THE ISTERURBAN STREET RAILWAY PROJECT

It is now several years sino Mayor Cameron and a few others of the Pass towns, secured a charter which would allow the operating of a street railway from Coleman to Frank. Lately this project has been revived and much discussion has

It is now believed by the business men of the Pass that $70,000 will finance this railway. Sixty thou sand being utilized in the construction of the road and ten thousand for the cars. The return trip to Frank to be twenty-five cents and an hourly service instituted.

The simple announcement shows alone that the Pass is progressing atome that the Fase is progressing favorably. Business has been double od in the past five years, building permits have more than doubled, while the population steadily growing, is becoming more and more residential.

ing, is becoming more and more residential. The enterpties should be taken boll of at olde as the Frank Paper has teen assured that local capital seam lought awaiting the opportunity for investment in a lucrative project like this. As a matter of first there are no shares on the market today as high as street railway shares and the jinvastor who seizes the opportunity and gets in on the ground floor, is mot only assured of a heavy interest but a substantial rise in the value of shares.

The building and operating of this active trailway will enlives and facility as a subspiness. The promoters should as all a meeting at once and launch sheir project.

THE LIMESTONE INDUSTRY

Mr. Little, of Blairmore, has at last less able to form a company which will uake full use of the waste lines alone rock of the Frank side. It has almost been a puzzle why this proposition was not taken up before, but now that it has been taken up we can afely say that there will be no more remunerative industry in the Pass than that of lime making. Cut and broken by nature, the expenditure has been reduced to a minutum. The founding of kilne and the laying of switches, are about the only great expense attwaced to this undertaking.

The market for lines in Scuthern Alberta and Eastern British Columbia is constaintly on the increase. From Lethbridge to Cranbrook the call is for lime. New towns are apringing up and their needs are both cartain and elastic.

Apart from all this, the industry means much to Frank. The tumber of men employed, the volume of business will play as important parts in her commarging success. The Frank Paper is keenly alive to a build in plant to the form the form the form the first the first of the first the Mr. Little, of Blairmore, basat last

DROWNED IN POOL AT FRANK

Wilhelmins Muller, the fourtee year old daughter of Heur. Mulicr of this place, was drowned last Wedof this piace, was drowned jast ween-needay evening, presimably while carrying water from a poof for dust-hold purposes. Nothing is definitely known as to how the accident hap-pened as the other members of the family were away from home at the time, but frem the fact that a water bucket was picked up by the pool at the bottom of which the child's body was found, such is supposed to be

The father of the child is employed at Hillerest and was on shift at the time. The mother, in the afternoon time. The mother, in the afteracon ment up town shopping and left Wilhelmins to look after four smaller children. It seems that after the mother left, the four small children went to a neighbor's an had been home but a short time when the mother returned. bother and she was zone when they returned.

The mother did not become auxious till night fell and, then she started making inquiries but could find no trace of the girl. Finally she was obliged to give up the search and await the return of her husband. Mr. Muller reached home from Hillerest at midnight and hearing of the child being missing, sought the sid of a friend and together they started the search. As ton husband was leaving the house, he noticed the water pail was missing and it at once occurred to bim that the child may have fallen in the pool. The two men went direct to the water hole and by the light of the lantern saw the body of the girl lying at the bottom while the pail lay on the bank.

The pool is a large one with about six feet of water where the girl fell in. It had been raining for three days and the ground was very slippery. It is asyposed the child went for a pail of water and in dipping it elipped into the hole.

The bods was recovered and Coroner F. M. Pinkney summoned. He decided that an inquest was not necessary.
